

Kodiak Campus

b L

Mid September, Clinton Snyder and Charles Silva visited the Kodiak campus to do a few larger projects. One of these was to replace a coil that provides heat to the laboratories in the building. This involved using a forklift to get the old crate out and the new crate into a second story mechanical room.

Nenana Drone Hangar

September 16th was a public open house for the new Nenana hangar of the Alaska Center for Unmanned Aircraft Systems Integration (ACUASI), a part of the University of Alaska Fairbanks Alaska
