

CHANCELLOR'S REPORT

Summer 2013

The Emil Usibelli award recipients were honored at a reception March 6 at the UAF museum. For the 22nd year, the three $10,000 awards were funded by a generous $600,000 endowment established by the Usibelli Coal Mine.

Joe Usibelli, Jr. spoke about his and his father's commitment to giving back to their alma-mater, and their philanthropic partnership. The UAF supports students, faculty, capital projects and much more.

Over 200 dedicated donors, students, faculty and friends gathered for the 22nd annual Flint Hills award ceremony on March 6, 2013. The event was held at the UAF museum and was a great success. The awards were presented to three recipients who were honored for their contributions to the university. The ceremony was a wonderful evening and we thank all who attended and supported the event.

Achievements

Individual

Leona E. Carlson made a distribution of $45,230 to the Edward K. and Alene Christiansen Music Scholarship.

Lester Hudson made a pledge payment of $30,000 to the Hilber family's senior commitment to the UAF Terrain Park.

Long-time supporter Arthur T. ..., '57, donated $20,000 to the Joseph Sr. and Rose R. Tremarello Memorial Scholarship, supporting qualified students on the UAF women's and men's varsity basketball teams. Matt ... donated $10,000 to the family scholarship fund.

Corporate/Foundation

Alaska Pipeline Service made a gift of $20,000 to the Alaska Pipeline Native MBA Fellowship.

Alaska Gas Processing Association Alaska Association of Downtown Alaska University of Alaska Fairbanks