RE: Fall '13 electronic course evaluation system demonstrations

Last academic year, the Faculty Development Assessment and Improvement Committee, along with several interested faculty volunteers and in cooperation with the Provost's Office, previewed will be responsible for participating in all four demonstrations plus an internal debrief and discussion.

However, because of the importance of this discussion to all members of the campus community, we encourage all interested students, staff, faculty, and administrators to view these demonstrations and provide feedback.

Those who are in Fairbanks are welcome to join us from 9:00 - 11:00 am in the Globe Room on Fridays 9/20, 10/11, 11/1, 11/22, and 12/6. Those who are away from the Fairbanks campus or who find it more convenient may participate remotely by following the login information on the next page. Some webinar providers require websites.

Please consider joining us and contributing to this important discussion.
